SPEAKERS

Pam Scott-Cook

Pam is married to Rob and has two grown up children, Emma, and Greg and four grandchildren.

She started her adult life as a nurse and a district

midwife until in her twenties, with Rob, she began serving God in a full-time church planting ministry on housing estates and later in the city centre in Bristol which after 50 years is still bringing much joy.

She loves reading, especially the Bible, knitting badly, visiting charity shops and gardening especially when plants are growing and blooming.

Emma Wall

Emma taught primary aged children for 29 years, many of those spent in Bristol's inner city where she was particularly passionate about nurturing disaffected children struggling with behavioural issues. Emma and her husband Johnny have been monthly respite foster carers for the past 12 years, the last 10 having been spent caring for an amazing girl, who has additional needs.

Emma has loved leading 8 Beth Moore Women's Bible study groups in her home and regularly preaches at several churches in Bristol. She is passionate about the Bible and the needed light it shines on our path.
